Transit Optimization Plan 2017 Update

In fall 2016, MTS collected more than 3,000 online and in-person surveys from riders to get their feedback about the current system. After several months of assessing surveys, ridership patterns and system data, MTS has made preliminary recommendations to modify certain routes and schedules to maximize efficiency. A second round of public outreach will happen in Spring 2017, and final recommendations will go to the MTS Board for approval, with changes anticipated in June 2017.
