Hop on board and bury your nose in a book – well, an eBook that is! MTS and the San Diego Public Library have teamed up again to help riders explore new worlds through literature with the Read & Ride eBook Club.

MTS passengers are invited to join Read & Ride for the chance to read 16 great books in 2016-2017. Since launching in 2014, more than 10,700 users took advantage of the free resource.

To participate:

1. Sign-up for a free library card at any of the 35 branches or Central Library downtown. (Select readings will be available to passengers without a library card.)
2. Visit ReadandRideSD.org on your smartphone or tablet to log-on.
3. Select one of the recommended readings in Identity, Suspense, Young Adult or Biography (English and Spanish copies available).

ebook titles include:

- Yes Please, a collection of stories, thoughts and poetry from funny lady Amy Poehler.
- Everything I Never Told You, the debut novel from Celeste Ng that chronicles a family pulled apart by guilt, secrecy, betrayal and culture.
- Americanah, Chimamanda Ngozi Adiche offers a powerful discourse on race told in the experiences of a young Nigerian woman who wins a fellowship to Princeton.
- Pride and Prejudice, the Jane Austen classic romance.
- And many more
